Presenter: Michele Galietta, Ph.D.

Dr. Michele Galietta is Associate Professor of Psychology at John Jay College of Criminal Justice, City University of New York where she served as Director of the Clinical Psychology Ph.D. Program from 2005-2013. Dr. Galietta is a researcher and clinician specializing in the application, adaptation and dissemination of empirically-supported treatments. Dr. Galietta is a clinical psychologist who has treated patients with chronic pain. She has presented on the topic of implicit bias in health care and she has trained health care professionals to respond effectively to somatic complaints and chronic pain in patients with complex trauma histories. Dr. Galietta studied the ethics of end-of-life research, and has written about ethical issues. While employed at Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York, she conducted research on end of life issues in medically ill populations, including individuals with terminal cancer and AIDS. Dr. Galietta has appeared on CNN and Court TV, and has been cited in the New York Times, the Washington Post, and other media outlets. Dr. Galietta holds a MA degree in spirituality and religion, and a Ph.D. in clinical psychology, both from Fordham University in New York.

Workshop Content:

Many therapists have attended trainings on how to run Dialectical Behavior Therapy (DBT) skills groups, but struggle with effective ways to use skills in individual therapy. This full-day training will introduce mindfulness, the core skill in DBT. Then, advanced skills for special problems will be described and modeled. Participants will leave with specific advanced skills for use in individual therapy context. Advanced skills that will be covered will include skills for anger, anxiety, loneliness, nightmares, and recovery from substance abuse.

Continuing Education Information:

New York State Office of the Professions (NYSED) regulations require that participants must be present for the entire approved educational activity, 10:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m., in order to receive continuing education credits. There is no accommodation in the State Regulation for late arrival or early departure. This educational offering has been approved for 5 continuing education contact hours for Licensed Social Workers, (#-0028); Licensed Mental Health Counselors (#MHC-0032); Psychoanalysts (#P-0012); Licensed Creative Art Therapists (#CAT-0049); and Licensed Marriage and Family Therapists (#MFT-0023). Successful completion for the award of approved continuing education credits requires submission of a completed evaluation form.

Distinguished Service Award:

Since 2013, the Trauma Institute of Orange County has recognized non-clinical providers in Orange County who are persistent in their efforts in promoting and delivering services/supports in a way that demonstrates their understanding of how trauma shapes an individual’s behavior and outlook on the world. Recipients will be honored during the Opening Session beginning promptly at 9:00 a.m.
