

ORANGE COUNTY HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION

Works with community groups and individuals to provide information, advocacy and education on discrimination based on:

- age
- arrest or conviction record
- creed/religion
- disability
- domestic violence victim status
- familial status
- genetic predisposition
- harassment of domestic workers

- marital status
- military status
- national origin
- pregnancy related condition
- race/ color
- retaliation
- sex
- sexual orientation

In the following jurisdictions: ◀ Housing ◀ Employment ◀ Public Accommodation ◀ Credit

WHAT CAN THE COMMISSION DO?

- Assist with individual discrimination complaints and offer guidance and support;
- Recommend and/or facilitate programs designed to eliminate prejudice and discrimination and encourage community support;
- Coordinate and facilitate education and awareness that fosters understanding of diversity, unity and humanity;
- Assist in the resolving of disputes and issues involving individual or systemic discrimination;
- Initiate and facilitate discussions and negotiations between individuals and groups to lessen tensions and improve understanding;
- Facilitate local dialogue and debate on current policy and thought on issues relating to human rights in Orange County.

Orange County Human Rights Commission

845-615-3680 or visit: orangecountygov.com